R-100 Dirigible at Montreal Early in Evening

MAKING POOR TIME AGAINST HEADWINDS

CONQUEST OF THE ATLANTIC WAS COMPARATIVELY EASY

DIRIGIBLE ARRIVED OVER THE MAINLAND OF NORTH AMERICA AT 7 A. M.

By GILBERT DRAPER
(United Press Staff Correspondent)
St. Hubert Airport, Que., July 31.—(U.P.)—The R-100 pushed her way up the St. Lawrence steadily but slowly today, making the poorest time of her journey from Cardington, England, to Montreal after a comparatively easy conquest of the Atlantic.

The dirigible encountered contrary winds as she passed from the Strait of Belle Isle into the mouth of the St. Lawrence. After passing the eastern end of Anticosti Island about dawn, she made the mainland of North America at Cape Magdalen, on the south shore of the St. Lawrence at 7 A. M. CST.

From there she struck out into the river heading for the north shore in an apparent effort to find better sailing conditions. At the point she was encountering a head wind of 25 miles an hour, and her speed was only 3 1/2 miles.

At 8:30 A. M. the liner Empress of Scotland reported that the dirigible had passed her 20 miles out in the river from Mount Louis Bay, which is about 20 miles west of Cape Magdalen.

At 9:10 A. M. the liner Duchess of Bedford sighted the dirigible between the west tip of Anticosti Island and Seven Islands Bay, on the north shore of the river. At 9:35 A. M. she was reported over Clarke City, near Seven Islands Bay.

At 10:10 A. M., the dirigible reached Trinity Bay and at 10:25 passed Godot, Que. Her maneuver apparently had succeeded and her speed was picking up, being estimated at better than 50 miles an hour. The dirigible messaged that she hoped to make this airport at 7 P. M., which she could do by averaging 50 miles an hour to Montreal. Trinity Bay is 435 miles from here.

Montreal, Que., Canada, July 31.—The dirigible R-100 was safe over the North American continent today and sped up the St. Lawrence valley close to its goal at Montreal.

The big experimental ship, which Great Britain built for rapid transportation between the scattered parts of its empire, followed the course of the St. Lawrence river after passing Belle Isle, and at 12:25 A. M. EST., was a bare 750 miles east of its destination.

Thirty-five minutes later the R-100 itself sent a message to the St. Hubert airport saying it was making good progress and expected to arrive here early this evening. The dirigible said it had averaged about 36 knots from Belle Isle and was flying at an altitude of 2,200 feet.

The weather generally was most favorable for this last stage of the more than 3,000-flight. Only a few scattered clouds dotted the Canadian sky, and through them the Canadian Pacific liner Duchess of York sighted the R-100 just after midnight when the steamship was 750 miles from here.

Four hours earlier the R-100 had reached Canada, ending the most difficult part of its voyage, the long Atlantic flight. It passed Belle Isle at 8:30 P. M., making good time, and sped on to the mouth of the St. Lawrence for the last stage of the journey.

The R-100 averaged only 50 miles an hour between Belle Isle and the Duchess of York, but with continued good weather it can cruise at an average speed of 71.5 miles an hour, which would put it over the St. Hubert airport before noon.

Even at 50 miles an hour it would arrive here in mid-afternoon, still within the 70-hour limit its officers had set as the maximum travelling time before the dirigible left Cardington, England, early Tuesday morning.

St. Hubert airport, never before host to a giant dirigible, was a hive of activity as its landing crew was put through the last passes for their new duties, and arrangements were completed to keep away the thousands who might crowd too close to the ship when it is moored to the new mast.

About 600 men, including troops, Royal Canadian Mounted Police and Montreal police, were encamped at the airport as a special guard, all under strict orders to see that none without authorized passes should approach the mooring mast.

Aged Couple, Divorced 30 Years Ago, Hope to Rewed

Lewiston, Me., July 31.—(U.P.)—James Demack, 71, and Mrs. Mary Demack, 74, who would have celebrated their golden wedding anniversary in 1928 if they had not been divorced 30 years ago, have filed marriage intentions here.

THREE WOMEN BURN TO DEATH; TRAPPED BY FALLING WALLS

McPherson, Kansas, July 31.—(U.P.)—Trapped by the falling walls of their home three women were burned to death today, one of them dying in an attempt to rescue her mother. The house was destroyed by the flames, which started about 4 a. m.

The dead were Mrs. Mary Kasarek and her daughter, Anna Grace, 15, and an aunt of the older woman, Mrs. Anne Socha of Durant, Kansas.

Mrs. Kasarek's sons, Edward and Lee, together with the former's wife, escaped from second floor windows. Edward went for help while Lee rescued his sister, Anna.

The girl looked back at the flaming house, screamed "Mother is in there!" and rushed into a bed room just as the walls collapsed burying her with the others.

The bodies of the girl and her mother were found near a door badly burned. Mrs. Socha had been carried into the basement when the floor collapsed. Her body was recovered only after burning debris was thrown aside.

The cause of the fire had not been determined.

NEW TONG WAR FLARES IN N. Y. CHINATOWN

1 MAN DEAD, 1 INJURED PROBABLY FATALITY IN NEW WARFARE

ANOTHER TONG KILLING ALSO REPORTED BY BOSTON AUTHORITIES

New York, July 31.—(U.P.)—A new tong war over opium flared in Chinatown today.

One man was dead and another injured probably fatally, and reports of another tong killing in Boston led police to believe the hostilities might become countrywide.

Last night Long Nott, driver for the Sun Chung Yuen Company, importers, was killed as he stood behind the counter of the company's shop at 4 Mott Street by an assassin who fired five bullets into his body.

Almost simultaneously another volley broke out a few doors further down the street and Bock Lin So, waiting on two tourists in the shop of Kong Sun Chong, slumped to the floor with ten bullets in his body. He is not expected to live.

Reports from Boston told of the killing of Leong Toon, 30, member of the On Leong faction.

PLAN DEDICATION OF MUNICIPAL AIRPORT

Duluth, Minn., July 31.—Duluth will play host September 13 and 14 to between 25,000 and 30,000 visitors, expected to attend the two-day ceremony attendant to the formal dedication of the Williamson-Johnson Municipal Airport.

Some of the nation's leading pilots, including Captain Frank Hawks, transcontinental glider pilot; Charles "Speed" Holman, holder of the world's loop the loop record and Eddie Stinson, builder of the Stinson airplane, are scheduled to attend the celebration.

Governor Theodore Christianson of Minnesota; Governor Kohler of Wisconsin and mayors of both St. Paul and Minneapolis, are listed among Northwest notables who will figure in the dedicatory ceremonies. Mayor S. F. Snively of Duluth has issued invitations through the press to residents of every community in Minnesota, upper Michigan and northern Wisconsin to be present at the dedication.

An "On to Duluth" race will be a feature of the opening day's events, the entries to cross the finishing line during the morning and afternoon of Saturday, September 13.

The Junior Chamber of Commerce and the American Legion of Duluth are sponsoring the project.

Lee Gehlbach Leads in All-American Air Derby

Lincoln, Neb., July 31.—(U.P.)—Lee Gehlbach of Little Rock, Ark., leader in the All-American air derby, was the first pilot to take off today as the fliers resumed the flight back to Detroit.

Gehlbach hopped off at 9:01 A. M. for Chicago, the next overnight stop before the derby entries end the race at Detroit Friday. The distance from Lincoln to Chicago, is 543 miles.

Sensational Methods of Enforcement Not to be Used in Administration Prohibition Plans

NEW PROHIBITION HEAD, WOODCOCK, GIVES STATEMENT

FEDERAL DRY AGENTS NOT TO "WASTE TIME" UPON THE SMALL CASES

HOPES TO HAVE BEST-TRAINED STAFF OF DETECTIVES IN THE WORLD

By CECIL OWEN
Washington, July 31.—Sensational methods of enforcement will have no place in the administration's future prohibition policy, if the program outlined today by Prohibition Director Amos W. W. Woodcock is followed.

Neither will federal dry agents be allowed to "waste their time upon picayunish, non-commercial cases," the new prohibition chief said, told the 12 administrators, here from all parts of the country for a two-day conference on enforcement methods.

Woodcock stressed reliance upon intelligence rather than brawn in addressing the administrators. He said his aim was more effective enforcement "fairly, honestly, earnestly and lawfully" by the best-trained staff of detectives in the world.

That commercial violators rather than petty offenders will be the main objective was made clear by the director, who said:

"I think the prohibition laws can be successfully enforced against commercial operations. I shall insist that a steady pressure be maintained against these commercial violations. I disapprove sensational methods."

While Woodcock was continuing his conference with the administrators, Alcohol Commissioner James M. Doran met today with 12 alcohol permit supervisors to discuss promulgation of new regulations which become effective Sept. 1. Doran said reports indicate a larger consumption of industrial alcohol in the next year. He denied any large quantities were being diverted to bootleg channels.

Establishment of schools for training dry agents and building an esprit de corps was cited by Woodcock as another prominent part of the administration program.

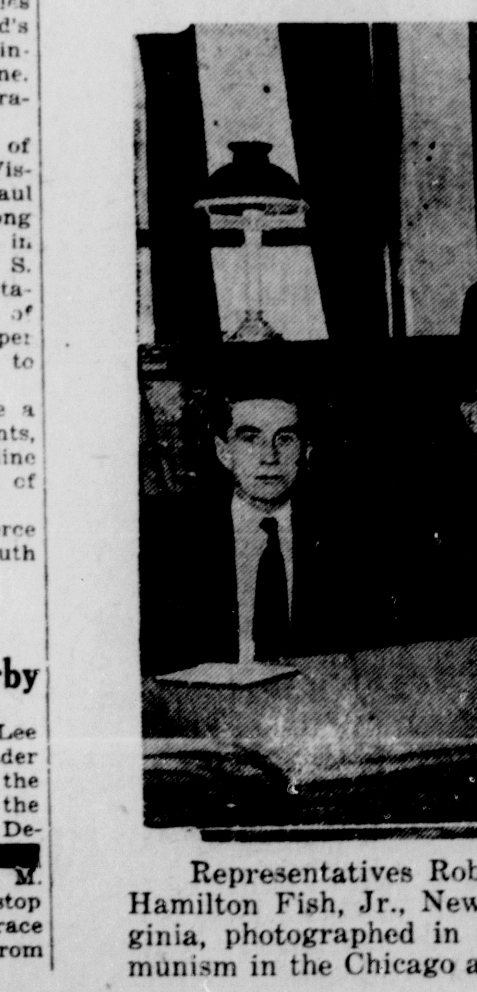

"These schools are intended to train the agents in methods of gathering evidence, in knowledge of the law and in habits of discipline," the director said.

"They are intended to train the agents to act always as gentlemen and to use their brains rather than their brawn. They will not use weapons except for defense."

Woodcock said he based his hopes for success largely upon these schools. A headquarters school for training instructors will be established in Washington soon, on Oct. 1. A group of 24 picked men who have graduated from a one-month course here will be sent to the various districts to act as schoolmasters.

Minneapolis, Minn., July 31.—(U.P.)—Wheat rallied slightly on the Minneapolis pit today to close about 1 cent up from yesterday's record-breaking low marks. July wheat closed at 82 7/8 up 1-1/8.

Bashman, West Virginia, photographed in the Federal Building at Chicago, where they investigated Communism in the Chicago area. At rear are Walter L. Reynolds and J. G. Rogers.

PILOT DAZED WHEN DECAPITATED HEAD OF BIRD STRIKES HIM

Burlington, Vt., July 21.—(U.P.)—Pilot J. A. Wilson was dazed when struck in the face by the head of a bird decapitated by his propeller. He made a safe landing, however, and neither he nor Congresswoman Edith House Rogers of Lowell, Mass., a passenger, was hurt.

KING GEORGE SIGNS LONDON NAVAL TREATY

HOUSE OF COMMONS INFORMED RATIFICATION HAS RECEIVED SIGNATURE

TO BE DEPOSITED WITH RATIFICATIONS BY DOMINIONS, U. S. AND JAPAN

London, July 31.—(U.P.)—King George has signed the London naval treaty ratification, the house of commons was informed today by Philip Snowden, chancellor of the exchequer.

Snowden announced that the ratification would be deposited simultaneously with the ratifications of the treaty by the dominions, the United States and Japan.

The naval treaty was ratified by the house of lords this week, the house of commons already having acted on the agreement.

The United States senate previously had ratified the pact and only the ratification of Japan remains. The treaty has been submitted by the emperor to the Japanese privy council for action.

The fact that the king had signed the treaty was announced by Snowden in the absence of Foreign Minister Arthur Henderson and Prime Minister J. Ramsay MacDonald.

HEAT CREEPING UP IN NORTHWEST

DROUGHT CONTINUES OVER THE GRAINFIELDS OF A WIDE AREA

St. Paul, Minn., July 31.—(U.P.)—Heat crept up toward burning temperatures today as drought continued over the grainfields of the northwest.

Though excessive heat marks were recorded only in northern Canada, the thermometer rose slightly in every state in the northwest. No immediate heat wave was predicted by the weather bureau.

Forecasters pointed out, however, that early morning marks at The Pas, Man., and other northern Canadian points were well over 70.

Grain continued to suffer from a lack of moisture with no rainfall reported in the last 24 hours and no prediction of precipitation in sight.

ANALYZE BASIS OF THE TRADE WAR BETWEEN U.S.-SOVIET

FIRST RUCTION COMES OVER IMPORTING PULPWOOD TO AMERICA

LIES IN DIFFERENCE IN ECONOMIC AND POLITICAL SYSTEMS OF 2 COUNTRIES

Moscow, July 31.—(U.P.)—The basis of the recent trade conflict between the United States and Soviet Russia over the importation of pulpwood to America was pointed out today as lying in the difference in economic and political systems of the two countries.

That difference, according to officials involved the penal institutions, methods of punishment and the enumeration of offenses which the Soviet law holds criminal while the United States does not.

Although Soviet officials have been loathe to discuss the recent controversy, the following facts have been learned:

1. That last fall the commissariat of the interior established a system of productive self-supporting prison labor colonies under the administration of the Gpu, secret political police. All long term convicts, including Kulaks and others considered class enemies to the Soviet government, milder than counter revolutionists, were sent to these colonies.

2. Officials said the prison camp system would allow the closing of 135 regular prisons, or about 20 per cent of the total number.

3. Many of these camps were established in the lumber sections of north Russia and Siberia.

4. Last fall the council of the people's commissaries of the Karelin republic ordered the Kulaks (rich farmers) into the woods to cut lumber. They received food and lodging as wages.

Generally it was believed here that the question of the admittance of Soviet goods would not have arisen unless the United States, in league with France and other countries, plotted anti-Soviet political moves.

Washington, July 31.—Assistant Secretary of the Treasury Lowman reopened the Russian pulpwood embargo case today by granting representatives of the Amtorg Trading Corporation and American interests who protested the ban an opportunity to present new evidence.

He granted permission for a new hearing at a conference at the treasury today. Meanwhile, he said, the embargo placed on pulpwood on the ground it was produced by convict labor, and thus violated the tariff act, would be continued. He gave no indication the treasury was considering an extension of the effective date of the recent treasury embargo order.

Bank of Belgium Reduces Discount Rate

Brussels, Belgium, July 31.—(U.P.)—The Bank of Belgium today reduced its discount rate one half per cent to two and one half per cent.

WANTED TO CLOTHE VENUS DE MILO WITH POISON IVY

Winona Lake, Ind., July 31.—(U.P.)—A Venus de Milo statue which stands near the Winona Lake firehouse will remain unadorned despite efforts of Mrs. Mary Schell Starr to clothe it with poison ivy.

Mrs. Starr, who lives here in the summers and in Chicago in the winters, thought the statue, donated to the city 20 years ago, was "not quite proper" so she planted rows of poison ivy around its base.

Fire fighters who live in the firehouse nearby happened, however, to like the statue as it is so they uprooted the plants with a high pressure hose.

Mrs. Starr appealed to Police Chief Frank C. Edington, but he sided with the firemen, reminding Mrs. Starr this was Billy Sunday's home town and that if the statue was all right with Sunday it was all right with him.

TWO STEAMERS IN SINKING CONDITION AFTER COLLISION

BRITISH SHIP NERBUDDA, SPANISH STEAMER LAGASPI INVOLVED

COLLIDE AT POINT 100 MILES EAST OF GIBRALTAR TODAY

London, July 31.—(U.P.)—The British steamer Nerbudda and the Spanish steamer Lagaspi were in a sinking condition today after a collision 100 miles east of Gibraltar, a Lloyds' dispatch from Gibraltar said.

Salvage steamers from Gibraltar were proceeding to the two vessels' assistance.

The Nerbudda was enroute from Australia to London while the Lagaspi was enroute to Barcelona from Santa Isabel.

The Nerbudda is a vessel of 7,911 gross tons, and owned by the British Steam Navigation Company, Ltd., of Glasgow. It was built by Barclay, Curle & Co., Ltd., at Glasgow in 1919. The Spanish steamship Lagaspi of 4,349 tons, is owned by the Compagnia Transatlantica de Barcelona. It also was built by Dixon & Company, Ltd., in 1904.

O'BRINE, JACKSON CELEBRATE FLIGHT ANNIVERSARY

St. Louis, July 31.—(U.P.)—After celebrating the anniversary of their record flight of a year ago, last night, Forest O'Brine and Dale Jackson piloted their endurance monoplane in circles over Lambert Municipal flying field today.

A year ago last night the flyers landed their monoplane "St. Louis Robin" after establishing a new record of 420 hours which was recently broken by the Hunter brothers of Sparta, Ill.

Reporting "everything going fine," O'Brine and Jackson passed their 240th hour aloft in their present flight at 7:11 (CST.)

REICHERS, BLACK ROUND OUT 250 HOURS IN AIR

Roosevelt Field, L. I., July 31.—(U.P.)—Louis Reichers and Robert Black rounded out 250 hours in the air at 6:34 A. M. today in their assault on the 553-hour endurance record of the Hunter brothers.

Shortly before last night's refueling contact the pilot of the refueling plane, John S. Donaldson, sponsor of the flight, was arrested on a charge of stealing a plane but the detectives allowed him to supply Reichers and Black with gas, oil, and food before surrendering himself. Donaldson denied the charge, saying the plane was lent him.

TAX COMPLAINT HAS A BACKFIRE

Minneapolis, Minn., July 31.—(U.P.)—L. A. Granowski complained that his taxes were too high.

He went before the board of equalization. "My taxes are based on $105,000 assets. They should be based on $20,000," he said.

The board investigated. Today they thanked Mr. Granowski for coming in. At the same time they set the value of the assets at $350,000 with a corresponding raise in taxes.

INVADERS KILL MANY NATIVES IN HONAN AREA

WOUND THOUSANDS, HOLD THE WEALTHIER CITIZENS FOR RANSOM

BELIEVED ALL FOREIGNERS ESCAPED BEFORE BANDITS ARRIVED

Shanghai, China, July 31.—(U.P.)—Martial law was declared here tonight for a period of 48 hours.

The proclamation became effective at 6 P. M. Authorities acted to forestall possible communistic disturbances which they feared as a repercussion of the sacking by communists of Changsha, in Hunan province.

Five American sailors on the gunboat Palos were reported wounded when communists near Changsha opened fire on the vessel. The sailors returned the fire and the Chinese suffered 30 casualties.

Peiping, China, July 31.—(U.P.)—Eighteen towns and villages in the vicinity of Loyang, western Honan province, were in the hands of Chinese communists and bandits today, advices received here said.

The invaders killed hundreds of natives and wounded thousands of others, seizing the wealthier citizens to hold for ransom.

The communists who seized Changsha, capital of Hunan province, yesterday, have issued demands for $1,000,000 ransom for Allen Cameron and William Lingle, American citizens, it was learned today. The fate of the two men was not known here.

Honan province, where the latest Chinese communists' invasions occurred, is approximately 450 miles north of Hunan province, where the capital, Changsha, was seized by communists from South China yesterday, burned and looted.

The communists have made a rapid drive northward from southern China during the past few days, marching through Hunan and Kiangsi provinces without meeting any resistance. National government troops were withdrawn from the territory to reinforce government troops fighting rebels in northern China.

Washington, July 31.—Americans residing in the remote Chinese provinces of Hupeh, Hunan, Honan and Kiangsi have received a second warning to withdraw to places of safety because of the increased activity of Chinese bandits, the state department was informed today.

The department was advised that the American legation at Peiping ordered the warning sent Tuesday following the pillaging of Changsha by so-called communists. Richard P. Butrick, American consul at Hankow, has sent a similar warning to the 419 Americans living in the four provinces.

A report from Butrick received here said the bandits have burned all the public buildings in Changsha and have crossed to the island where the foreign settlement is. The consul reported that all Americans had left Changsha except two, William Lingle, Salisbury, N. C., and Allen Cameron, Lawrence, Kas.

The 45 Americans who left the city before the bandits got control are on board naval vessels in the river five miles below Changsha, Butrick said. He estimated American holdings in Changsha at $565,000 in real estate and goods worth $1,550,000.

Meanwhile, no action toward strengthening the navy's Asiatic forces is contemplated here, it was said. The United States now has 6,000 sailors and 2,400 marines in China.

Washington, July 31.—All Americans except one in Changsha, now overrun by "communist" forces, have been evacuated to places of safety. Consul Richard P. Butrick, Hankow, advised the state department today. Allen Cameron, Lawrence, Kan., is the one American remaining in the flame-swept city.

Willmar, Minn., July 31.—Released from the hands of a revolutionary army in the heart of a war-torn China, Reverend and Mrs. R. W. Porteous, missionaries, are returning to spend a furlough at their former home here, letters said today.

The Porteous couple were members of the China Inland Mission and were unable to escape to the port cities when civil war broke out, they wrote friends.

During the guerilla warfare that followed they were trapped between the nationalist lines and the revolutionary forces and finally captured by the revolutionists on July 12.

Though held prisoners for some time, they were not harmed, they said. They expected to arrive in Willmar late in August.

Washington, July 31.—The band of so-called "communists" now in command of Changsha have demanded tribute of $1,000,000 as a price for refraining from destroying the entire city, the state department was advised today. Meanwhile, it was reported that property of American oil companies, the Japanese consulate and the Japanese hospital have been looted.

"They are intended to train the agents to act always as gentlemen and to use their brains rather than their brawn. They will not use weapons except for defense."

Woodcock said he based his hopes for success largely upon these schools. A headquarters school for training instructors will be established in Washington soon, on Oct. 1. A group of 24 picked men who have graduated from a one-month course here will be sent to the various districts to act as schoolmasters.

Minneapolis, Minn., July 31.—(U.P.)—Wheat rallied slightly on the Minneapolis pit today to close about 1 cent up from yesterday's record-breaking low marks. July wheat closed at 82 7/8 up 1-8.

PILOT DAZED WHEN
DECAPITATED HEAD OF BIRD STRIKES HIM

Burlington, Vt., July 21.—(U.P.)—Pilot J. A. Wilson was dazed when struck in the face by the head of a bird decapitated by his propeller. He made a safe landing, however, and neither he nor Congresswoman Edith House Rogers of Lowell, Mass., a passenger, was hurt.

KING GEORGE
SIGNS LONDON
NAVAL TREATYHOUSE OF COMMONS INFORMED
RATIFICATION HAS RECEIVED
SIGNATURETO BE DEPOSITED WITH RATIFI-
CATIONS BY DOMINIONS,
U. S. AND JAPAN

London, July 31.—(U.P.)—King George has signed the London naval treaty ratification, the house of commons was informed today by Philip Snowden, chancellor of the exchequer.

Snowden announced that the ratification would be deposited simultaneously with the ratifications of the treaty by the dominions, the United States and Japan.

The naval treaty was ratified by the house of lords this week, the house of commons already having acted on the agreement.

The United States senate previously had ratified the pact and only the ratification of Japan remains. The treaty has been submitted by the emperor to the Japanese privy council for action.

The fact that the king had signed the treaty was announced by Snowden in the absence of Foreign Minister Arthur Henderson and Prime Minister J. Ramsay MacDonald.

HEAT CREEPING UP IN NORTHWESTDROUGHT CONTINUES OVER THE GRAINFIELDS OF A WIDE AREA

St. Paul, Minn., July 31.—(U.P.)—Heat crept up toward burning temperatures today as drought continued over the grainfields of the northwest.

Though excessive heat marks were recorded only in northern Canada, the thermometer rose slightly in every state in the northwest. No immediate heat wave was predicted by the weather bureau.

Forecasters pointed out, however, that early morning marks at The Pas, Man., and other northern Canadian points were well over 70.

Grain continued to suffer from a lack of moisture with no rainfall reported in the last 24 hours and no prediction of precipitation in sight.

ANALYZE BASIS OF THE TRADE WAR
BETWEEN U. S.-SOVIETFIRST RUCTION COMES OVER IMPORTING PULPWOOD TO
AMERICALIES IN DIFFERENCE IN ECON-OMIC AND POLITICAL SYS-TEMS OF 2 COUNTRIES

Moscow, July 31.—(U.P.)—The basis of the recent trade conflict between the United States and Soviet Russia over the importation of pulpwood to America was pointed out today as lying in the difference in economic and political systems of the two countries.

That difference, according to officials involved in the penal institutions, methods of punishment and the enumeration of offenses which the Soviet law holds criminal while the United States does not.

Although Soviet officials have been loathe to discuss the recent controversy, the following facts have been learned:

1. That last fall the commissariat of the interior established a system of productive self-supporting prison labor colonies under the administration of the Gpu, secret political police. All long term convicts, including Kulaks and others considered class enemies to the Soviet government, milder than counter revolutionists, were sent to these colonies.

2. Officials said the prison camp system would allow the closing of 135 regular prisons, or about 20 per cent of the total number.

3. Many of these camps were established in the lumber sections of north Russia and Siberia.

4. Last fall the council of the people's commissaries of the Karelin republic ordered the Kulaks (rich farmers) into the woods to cut lumber. They received food and lodging as wages.

Generally it was believed here that the question of the admittance of Soviet goods would not have arisen unless the United States, in league with France and other countries, plotted anti-Soviet political moves.

Washington, July 31.—Assistant Secretary of the Treasury Lowman reopened the Russian pulpwood embargo case today by granting representatives of the Amtorg Trading Corporation and American interests who protested the ban an opportunity to present new evidence.

He granted permission for a new hearing at a conference at the treasury today. Meanwhile, he said, the embargo placed on pulpwood on the ground it was produced by convict labor, and thus violated the tariff act, would be continued. He gave no indication the treasury was considering an extension of the effective date of the recent treasury embargo order.

Brussels, Belgium, July 31.—(U.P.)—The Bank of Belgium today reduced its discount rate one half per cent to two and one half per cent.

WANTED TO CLOTHE
VENUS DE MILO
WITH POISON IVY

Winona Lake, Ind., July 31.—(U.P.)—A Venus de Milo statue which stands near the Winona Lake firehouse will remain unadorned despite efforts of Mrs. Mary Schell Starr to clothe it with poison ivy.

Mrs. Starr, who lives here in the summers and in Chicago in the winters, thought the statue, donated to the city 20 years ago, was "not quite proper" so she planted rows of poison ivy around its base.

Fire fighters who live in the firehouse nearby happened, however, to like the statue as it is so they uprooted the plants with a high pressure hose.

Mrs. Starr appealed to Police Chief Frank C. Edington, but he sided with the firemen, reminding Mrs. Starr this was Billy Sunday's home town and that if the statue was all right with Sunday it was all right with him.

TWO STEAMERS IN SINKING CONDITION
AFTER COLLISIONBRITISH SHIP NERBUDDA, SPAN-ISH STEAMER LAGASPI
INVOLVEDCOLLIDE AT POINT 100 MILES
EAST OF GIBRALTAR
TODAY

London, July 31.—(U.P.)—The British steamer Nerbudda and the Spanish steamer Lagaspi were in a sinking condition today after a collision 100 miles east of Gibraltar, a Lloyd's dispatch from Gibraltar said.

Salvage steamers from Gibraltar were proceeding to the two vessels' assistance.

The Nerbudda was enroute from Australia to London while the Lagaspi was enroute to Barcelona from Santa Isabel.

The Nerbudda is a vessel of 7,911 gross tons, and owned by the British Steam Navigation Company, Ltd., of Glasgow. It was built by Barclay, Curle & Co., Ltd., at Glasgow in 1919.

The Spanish steamship Lagaspi of 4,349 tons, is owned by the Compagnia Transatlantica de Barcelona. It also was built by Dixon & Company, Ltd., in 1904.

O'BRIEN, JACKSON
CELEBRATE FLIGHT
ANNIVERSARY

St. Louis, July 31.—(U.P.)—After celebrating the anniversary of their record flight of a year ago, last night, Forest O'Brien and Dale Jackson piloted their endurance monoplane in circles over Lambert Municipal flying field today.

A year ago last night the flyers landed their monoplane "St. Louis Robin" after establishing a new record of 420 hours which was recently broken by the Hunter brothers of Sparta, Ill.

Reporting "everything going fine," O'Brien and Jackson passed their 240th hour aloft in their present flight at 7:11 (CST.)

REICHERS, BLACK
ROUND OUT 250
HOURS IN AIR

Roosevelt Field, L. I., July 31.—(U.P.)—Louis Reichers and Robert Black rounded out 250 hours in the air at 6:34 A. M. today in their assault on the 553-hour endurance record of the Hunter brothers.

Shortly before last night's refueling contact the pilot of the refueling plane, John S. Donaldson, sponsor of the flight, was arrested on a charge of stealing a plane but the detectives allowed him to supply Reichers and Black with gas, oil, and food before surrendering himself. Donaldson denied the charge, saying the plane was lent him.

TAX COMPLAINT
HAS A BACKFIRE

Minneapolis, Minn., July 31.—(U.P.)—L. A. Granowski complained that his taxes were too high.

He went before the board of equalization. "My taxes are based on $105,000 assets. They should be based on $20,000," he said.

The board investigated. Today they thanked Mr. Granowski for coming in. At the same time they set the value of the assets at $350,000 with a corresponding raise in taxes.

INVADERS KILL
IN HONAN AREAWOUND THOUSANDS, HOLD THE WEALTHIER CITIZENS FOR RANSOMBELIEVED ALL FOREIGNERS ES-CAPED BEFORE BANDITS ARRIVED

Shanghai, China, July 31.—(U.P.)—Martial law was declared here tonight for a period of 48 hours.

The proclamation became effective at 6 P. M. Authorities acted to forestall possible communist disturbances which they feared as a repercussion of the sacking by communists of Changsha, in Hunan province.

Five American sailors on the gunboat Palos were reported wounded when communists near Changsha opened fire on the vessel. The sailors returned the fire and the Chinese suffered 30 casualties.

Peiping, China, July 31.—(U.P.)—Eighteen towns and villages in the vicinity of Loyang, western Honan province, were in the hands of Chinese communists and bandits today, advisers received here said.

The invaders killed hundreds of natives and wounded thousands of others, seizing the wealthier citizens to hold for ransom.

The communists who seized Changsha, capital of Hunan province, yesterday, have issued demands for $1,000,000 ransom for Allen Cameron and William Lingle, American citizens, it was learned today. The fate of the two men was not known here.

Honan province, where the latest Chinese communists' invasions occurred, is approximately 450 miles north of Hunan province, where the capital, Changsha, was seized by communists from South China yesterday, burned and looted.

The communists have made a rapid drive northward from southern China during the past few days, marching through Hunan and Kiangsi provinces without meeting any resistance. National government troops were withdrawn from the territory to reinforce government troops fighting rebels in northern China.

Washington, July 31.—Americans residing in the remote Chinese provinces of Hupeh, Hunan, Honan and Kiangsi have received a second warning to withdraw to places of safety because of the increased activity of Chinese bandits, the state department was informed today.

The department was advised that the American legation at Peiping ordered the warning sent Tuesday following the pillaging of Changsha by so-called communists. Richard P. Butrick, American consul at Hankow, has sent a similar warning to the 419 Americans living in the four provinces.

A report from Butrick received here said the bandits have burned all the public buildings in Changsha and have crossed to the island where the foreign settlement is. The consul reported that all Americans had left Changsha except two, William Lingle, Salisbury, N. C., and Allen Cameron, Lawrence, Kas.

The 45 Americans who left the city before the bandits got control are on board naval vessels in the river five miles below Changsha, Butrick said. He estimated American holdings in Changsha at $565,000 in real estate and goods worth $1,550,000.

Meanwhile, no action toward strengthening the navy's Asiatic forces is contemplated here, it was said. The United States now has 6,000 sailors and 2,400 marines in China.

Washington, July 31.—All Americans except one in Changsha, now overriden by "communist" forces, have been evacuated to places of safety.

Consul Richard P. Butrick, Hankow, advised the state department today. Allen Cameron, Lawrence, Kan., is the one American remaining in the flame-swept city.

Willmar, Minn., July 31.—Released from the hands of a revolutionary army in the heart of a war-torn China, Reverend and Mrs. R. W. Porteous, missionaries, are returning to spend a furlough at their former home here, letters said today.

The Porteous couple were members of the China Inland Mission and were unable to escape to the port cities when civil war broke out, they wrote friends.

During the guerrilla warfare that followed they were trapped between the nationalist lines and the revolutionary forces and finally captured by the revolutionists on July 12.

Though held prisoners for some time, they were not harmed, they said. They expected to arrive in Willmar late in August.

Washington, July 31.—The band of so-called "communists" now in command of Changsha have demanded tribute of $1,000,000 as a price for refraining from destroying the entire city, the state department was advised today. Meanwhile, it was reported that property of American oil companies, the Japanese consulate and the Japanese hospital have been looted.

Representatives Robert S. Hall, Mississippi (left); Edward E. Eslick, Tennessee; Hamilton Fish, Jr., New York, John F. Nelson, Maine, and Carl G. Bashman, West Virginia, photographed in the Federal Building at Chicago, where they investigated Communism in the Chicago area. At rear are Walter L. Reynolds and J. G. Rogers.

I. C. White who was working on a boiler at the shops yesterday was quite seriously hurt when a large chain block fell and hit him on the top of the head, cutting quite a deep gash and laying him out for a time. He was taken to the Northern Pacific hospital.

Beginning August 1 the N. P. foundry will go on a nine hour six day a week schedule. They have been on a ten hour five day a week, which will make a difference of four hours a week.

John Cochran had his catch of fish strung out at his home yesterday which was viewed with envy by many anglers. He got 38 pike in all, but one string in particular Mr. Cochran took pride in was of eight fish weighing 41 pounds. They were beauties and one of the finest collections ever seen in the city.

The family of W. W. Smythe, the well known shop man, arrived from Scotland a few days ago and they have gone to housekeeping on South Ninth street. Mrs. Smythe is a sister of Mrs. D. K. Fullerton.

John Wilson while walking home to East Brainerd last evening fell off the East Brainerd bridge where it was the farthest from the ground. He fell 43 feet and was taken to St. Joseph's hospital. Upon examination it was discovered he was not hurt at all but badly frightened.

The Sunday school picnic of the M. E. church will be held tomorrow at White Sand Lake. Teams will leave the church at 7:30 a. m.

BRAINERD 25 Years Ago

July 31, 1905

I. C. White who was working on a boiler at the shops yesterday was quite seriously hurt when a large chain block fell and hit him on the top of the head, cutting quite a deep gash and laying him out for a time. He was taken to the Northern Pacific hospital.

Beginning August 1 the N. P. foundry will go on a nine hour six day a week schedule. They have been on a ten hour five day a week, which will make a difference of four hours a week.

John Cochrane had his catch of fish strung out at his home yesterday which was viewed with envy by many anglers. He got 38 pike in all, but one string in particular Mr. Cochrane took pride in was of eight fish weighing 41 pounds. They were beauties and one of the finest collections ever seen in the city.

The family of W. W. Smythe, the well known shop man, arrived from Scotland a few days ago and they have gone to housekeeping on South Ninth street. Mrs. Smythe is a sister of Mrs. D. K. Fullerton.

John Wilson while walking home to East Brainerd last evening fell off the East Brainerd bridge where it was the farthest from the ground. He fell 40 feet and was taken to St. Joseph's hospital. Upon examination it was discovered he was not hurt at all but badly frightened.

The Sunday school picnic of the M. E. church will be held tomorrow at White Sand Lake. Teams will leave the church at 7:30 a. m.

Col. Freeman Thorpe returned Saturday afternoon from Montana where he has been painting portraits of some of the prominent people of that state.

Oreskovich-Abbott

Miss Dorothy Abbott and Mitchell Oreskovich, both of Trommald, were married by Judge J. H. Warner in his office in the city hall July 29.

The couple will make their future home at Trommald.

CROW WING

EXCESSIVE gum in gasolene is harmful. Cities Service experts were among the first to recognize this fact—and among the first to overcome it.

Neither time, money nor effort has been spared to remove the harmful gum from Koolmotor Gasolene, the original high test, anti-knock green gas. A special process—the mini-gum process—is employed by Cities Service to reduce the gum content in Koolmotor Gasolene to a harmless minimum.

All this has been done for your benefit—to free you from the menace of sticky valves that steal your power and result in faulty engine performance and expensive repair bills.

Play safe—don't pay the penalty of gummed-up valves. Drive to your nearest Cities Service Station or dealer today for a tankful of Koolmotor Gasolene—the gas that is free from harmful gum.

The Minnesota State Fair

THE Minnesota State Fair has grown so big that it takes a good sized booklet of 242 pages just to tell about the premium list. It is the biggest state fair in the United States and has assumed international importance.

Whether it makes money or not, it is important that it continue to grow. Its educational features, valuable to all young people, should out-balance the purely financial aspect of conducting such an immense fair.

In the Brainerd Dispatch office is a relic of fair days of long ago, a poster owned by the Crow Wing County Historical society and under date of 1883 proclaiming in several colors the Minnesota State Fair at Owatonna. At that time Clark W. Thompson was president and R. C. Judson secretary of the association. It was presented September 3, 4, 5, 6, 7 and 8. The five pictures of the lithograph show a scene of an Indian camp, the fair location at Owatonna and streetcars in evidence, farm exhibits and horse racing, with the fifth picture in the center a flapper of the period.

It's a far cry from 1883 to 1930, nearly half a century, and the strides made by the fair in that time can be measured by examination of the literature of the two periods.

It has grown to be as much of an institution as the State Capitol in St. Paul. It belongs to all Minnesotans and our pleasure and profit and education are shared with our thousands of visitors from other states and Canada, as well as many other foreign countries.

We have examined and visited state fairs in other states, but have found nothing to equal Minnesota's fair and its growth, fostered by intelligent direction, will always keep it in front ranks.

When any household makes up its annual budget and allows so much for food, so much for clothing, doctor, telephone, water and light, gas, insurance, etc., there should be an allowance for the annual visit to the state fair to be enjoyed by the whole family.

Drivers' License Law

As related by Frank S. Gold at a recent Rotary club meeting, when he talked on automobile affairs in the state, a drivers' license law which will be a club over the head of the reckless driver will be drafted and submitted to the legislative committee of the Minnesota Automobile Association in St. Paul this week.

This proposed law is being drawn up by F. W. Zollman, president of the St. Paul Automobile club, and F. G. Barry, traffic director of the Automobile Club of Minneapolis.

The new law would require all drivers to obtain licenses which would be issued to applicants answering a few fundamental questions. No stringent physical or mental examination would be required.

The teeth of the measure, however, would lie in the fact that stiff penalties would fall upon persons driving without a license and courts would have the right to revoke any driver's license after he is found guilty of reckless driving, while drunk or for similar offenses. Zollman said the drivers' fee would be nominal, tentatively only 25 cents.

Mixup in Babies

THE mixup in babies of the Bamberger and Watkins families of Chicago continues to occupy front page space in the newspapers of the nation. There is an element of humor in it, but also deep tragedy. Every mother hopes the difficulty will be settled.

Such a mixup, for instance, cannot occur in the hospital at Brainerd. There the expectant mother is "fingerprinted" and the record made as soon as she arrives at the hospital. When her child is brought into the world, "fingerprints" of both hands and "footprints" of both feet are made of the baby and the records carefully filed away.

In the examination of millions of fingerprints no two have ever been found to be exactly alike. That is why fingerprint is an almost perfect measure of identification.

Poor Side Streets

THE city has a number of side streets, small sections lying between improved cement streets, which are a source of danger to drivers. Accustomed to the smooth surface of cement, they are confronted with rough dirt road and danger of breaking springs when they take those side streets.

Reference in particular is made to one block of Maple street extending from Sixth to Fifth street and the block on Norwood from Sixth to Fifth street. These two short lengths are used much by tourists and others who wish to drive east or west and thus help to reduce the heavy traffic which sticks to South Sixth and Laurel and meets the "stop and go" sign.

It is hoped that these short stretches may be paved in the near future.

THERE has been inquiry in Brainerd for lake cottages, ultra modern ones. The average cottage at the lake has ice, boat, garage, screened porches, etc., while a proportion also have electric light, but these people were insistent in desiring running water too. These people had been staying at the highest class lake hotels and they now desired cottages with all such accommodations.

It seems that endurance flights require sturdy finances and that there's more to such a flight than just men and machine. There is also money. The O'Brien-Jackson second attempt at an endurance mark may come to a sudden close if the finances are not replenished.

TEN types of modern aircraft will be on demonstration and will fly about Moorhead according to plans of Moorhead aviation school officials for the annual air derby set for August 2 and 3.

A GRAIN glut in the northwest is imminent unless farmers hold their wheat from local elevators, the North Dakota agricultural college reported.

THE Literary Digest comes out dressed up in new headlines. As noticeable as the girl with a new hat, and just as proud.

No news from India for some time leads one to believe that the independence movement may be subsiding.

GOOD LEGUME HAY VERY ESSENTIAL

Soy Beans Can Be Used in Emergency for Cows.

Legume hay is practically a necessity in producing milk at the lowest possible cost, asserts C. L. Blackman, extension specialist in dairying for the Ohio State university. And the dairy farmer who fears that he will run short of clover or alfalfa hay for his herd, need not be without a good legume hay.

"Soy beans can be used in an emergency to supply the necessary legume hay," says Blackman. If the beans are sowed early in June or immediately after corn planting they will usually be ready to cut the latter part of August. It is important that they be sown early in order to be ready for cutting at this time. Soy beans sowed too late and cut too late may provide either a poor quality of hay or none at all. They make hay which is sufficiently valuable to justify the dairy farmer in arranging his farm work so as to sow them when they should be sown.

"Soy bean hay is one of the most palatable hays for dairy cattle, and is practically equal in feeding value to alfalfa, which is the perfect hay for the dairy herd. The soy bean hay carries approximately the same amount of protein and mineral matter as alfalfa, but cows do not eat it up quite as cleanly as they eat up alfalfa, because of the coarser stems. Early sowing and cutting reduce the amount of waste due to this.

Many Dairymen Fail to Balance Their Rations

Many stock keepers fail to balance their rations because they feel it necessary to feed what they have at hand. For example: A farmer may have a large supply of alfalfa or clover and, knowing that this is an excellent feed, especially for dairy stock, he will feed too much protein, which will result in a loss of feed as well as production.

It probably would pay him very well to sell some of his alfalfa and buy corn or barley. On the other hand, he may have a large supply of timothy hay, corn silage and corn, and his rations woefully lack protein as well as minerals; for in our protein feeds we generally have a high per cent of minerals and vitamins.

There are many feeds in the form of forage, grains or mill stuff, and in any state or county they generally can be produced in sufficient quantities and at low enough prices to warrant profitable production of stock and stock products. But to obtain results it is necessary to give the animal a balance as to protein and carbohydrates. This also applies to minerals.

The Minnesota State Fair

THE Minnesota State Fair has grown so big that it takes a good sized booklet of 242 pages just to tell about the premium list. It is the biggest state fair in the United States and has assumed international importance.

Whether it makes money or not, it is important that it continue to grow. Its educational features, valuable to all young people, should out-balance the purely financial aspect of conducting such an immense fair.

In the Brainerd Dispatch office is a relic of fair days of long ago, a poster owned by the Crow Wing County Historical society and under date of 1883 proclaiming in several colors the Minnesota State Fair at Owatonna. At that time Clark W. Thompson was president and R. C. Judson secretary of the association. It was presented September 3, 4, 5, 6, 7 and 8. The five pictures of the lithograph show a scene of an Indian camp, the fair location at Owatonna and streetcars in evidence, farm exhibits and horse racing, with the fifth picture in the center a flapper of the period.

It's a far cry from 1883 to 1930, nearly half a century, and the strides made by the fair in that time can be measured by examination of the literature of the two periods.

It has grown to be as much of an institution as the State Capitol in St. Paul. It belongs to all Minnesotans and our pleasure and profit and education are shared with our thousands of visitors from other states and Canada, as well as many other foreign countries.

We have examined and visited state fairs in other states, but have found nothing to equal Minnesota's fair and its growth, fostered by intelligent direction, will always keep it in front ranks.

When any household makes up its annual budget and allows so much for food, so much for clothing, doctor, telephone, water and light, gas, insurance, etc., there should be an allowance for the annual visit to the state fair to be enjoyed by the whole family.

Drivers' License Law

As related by Frank S. Gold at a recent Rotary club meeting, when he talked on automobile affairs in the state, a drivers' license law which will be a club over the head of the reckless driver will be drafted and submitted to the legislative committee of the Minnesota Automobile Association in St. Paul this week.

This proposed law is being drawn up by F. W. Zollman, president of the St. Paul Automobile club, and F. G. Barry, traffic director of the Automobile Club of Minneapolis.

The new law would require all drivers to obtain licenses which would be issued to applicants answering a few fundamental questions. No stringent physical or mental examination would be required.

The teeth of the measure, however, would lie in the fact that stiff penalties would fall upon persons driving without a license and courts would have the right to revoke any driver's license after he is found guilty of reckless driving, while drunk or for similar offenses. Zollman said the drivers' fee would be nominal, tentatively only 25 cents.

TUFFY GRIFFITHS IN TECHNICAL KAYOE OVER HEENEY

BIG LEAGUERS CAN'T FIND BALL IN NIGHT PLAY

HEENEY UNABLE TO ANSWER BELL IN FINAL ROUND

GRIFFITHS DESERVED VICTORY FOR HE HAD DONE ALMOST ALL THE LEADING

HE RECEIVED NO PUNISHMENT FROM THE ANZAC FIGHTER

New York, July 31.—(U.P.)—Tuffy Griffiths of Sioux City, Iowa, scored a technical knockout over Tom Heenev of New Zealand, when Heenev was unable to answer the bell for the final round of a scheduled 10-round bout at the Queensboro Stadium last night.

Griffiths deserved the victory for he had done almost all of the leading and received almost no punishment from the Anzac.

Griffiths, who scaled 187 against Heenev's 204½, was credited with winning every round after the third. Heenev won the first round mainly because Griffiths had been knocked half way through the ropes within the first minute of the round. The second and third rounds were even.

Unlike most bouts to date, the contest produced no aftermaths. Boxing circles here had it that Joe Jacobs, manager of Max Schmeling, intended to use Heenev in a warm-up bout for his charge if Heenev made a creditable showing against the Iowan.

Heenev, however, showed nothing to warrant such a move. He was saved from a knockout when the bell ended the ninth round. Griffiths had scored solid blows to the head and body near the end of the ninth.

Heenev went down, came back up in a hunch, ready to accept the coup de grace when the bell sounded.

Newark, N. J., July 31.—Mickey Walker of Rumson, N. J., world's middleweight champion, knocked out

Willie Oster of Boston, former navy champion in the third round of a scheduled 10-round bout before a crowd of 20,000 at Dreamland Park, last night. Walker's title was not at stake as both boxers came in over the middleweight limit. Walker weighed 163, Oster 168.

'Bullet Joe' Bush Suffers Ptomaine Poison Attack

An Associated Press dispatch from Allentown, Pa., states that "Bullet Joe" Bush, former major league pitcher and now manager of the Allentown Eastern league club, last night was under the care of a physician at his hotel in Springfield, Mass., following a severe attack of ptomaine poisoning. Bush, some of his players said, took sick shortly after the team's bus left Allentown for Springfield and went to his room immediately on arrival there. Bush started his baseball career at Brainerd, Minn.

London, July 31.—(U.P.)—Young Stribling's left hand was filled with novocaine an hour before the Georgia heavyweight knocked out Phil Scott Monday night, the London Daily Mail said today. It was a left hook which dropped Scott for the final count.

"An hour before the bout W. L. S. hand hurt him so badly that I called a specialist who injected novocaine to deaden the pain," said Pa Stribling. Stribling injured his left hand before meeting Otto Von Porat at Chicago in June. On that occasion he also knocked out von Porat after having a local anesthetic injected into his left hand.

HOWLEY AND CLUB OPPOSE NIGHT BASEBALL

REDS IN THEIR EXHIBITION PILED UP SIX ERRORS LAST NIGHT

LOST GAME TO INDIANAPOLIS AMERICAN ASSOCIATION TEAM, 17 TO 5

Indianapolis, Ind., July 31.—(U.P.)—Dan Howley and his Cincinnati Reds today were included among the opponents of night baseball.

The Reds, first major league club ever to appear in a night game, made six errors in their exhibition game with the Indianapolis American Association team at Washington Park last night, and lost the game, 17 to 5.

Both teams made 15 hits, but the Indians bunched their blows with Cincinnati errors to score 8 runs in the seventh and 6 more in the eighth.

Big Tim Angle, Indianapolis catcher, was the hitting star of the game with five hits in as many times at bat. Most of the big leaguers found hitting difficult, Cucinello, Dreesen and Durocher being the only Reds to hit in their accustomed style.

"The chief reason it won't be a success is that major league fans demand major league baseball and you can't play the big time game when you can't see the ball half the time," Howley said after the game.

Bob Meusel, veteran outfielder, gave up after three innings with the remark: "Dan, once that thing hits the ground it looks like an aspirin tablet when you see it at all. This stuff may be the solution of financial problems of minor league owners, but up in the big time where they expect good fielding they'll save money by not putting in lighting plants."

The value of feeding dairy cows well during the summer cannot be measured entirely in the milk production at that time. The better care has a beneficial effect that lasts over into the winter following.

When prices of dairy products are low it is a good time to put the herd on a more efficient basis of production. Cutting down the feed is not considered good economy; culling out inferior cows is a profitable practice.

A home-made calf meal can be made of equal parts by weight of hominy meal, red dog flour, linseed oil meal and blood flour.

Commercial calf meals give fair results, and vigorous calves result from their use without milk after the calves are four weeks old.

Dairymen who feed liberally during July and August will largely avoid the decreased milk flow commonly ascribed to flies, since shortage of feed is really at the bottom of most of the trouble.

CLAIM NEW WORLD OUTBOARD MOTOR SPEED MARK

Chicago, July 31.—(U.P.)—Acceptance of a claim to a new world outboard motor boat speed record of 49.72 miles per hour, made by Ray Fregener, Jr., of Antioch, Ill., in a speed test at Fox lake, July 27, today awaited official inspection of the motor. The recognized record of 49.48 miles per hour was established by H. G. Ferguson at Balboa, Calif., Dec. 4, 1929.

There are no known cures for abortion but there are precautions.

The price of butterfat is always highest in fall, winter, and early spring.

Cream can be more easily and more economically handled in the cooler weather.

Feeding good cows is more profitable than feeding poor ones. Cull out the poorer animals.

Butterfat production depends upon the inherited producing qualities of the cow, the kind and amount of feed, and the care and management given the cow.

There are many excellent commercial mixed protein feeds on the market which have the advantage over single protein concentrates, like linseed meal, cottonseed meal, gluten feed, etc.

CHICAGO CUBS MAY SOON LOSE MORE GROUND

VACATIONED YESTERDAY BECAUSE OF OPEN DATE IN SCHEDULE

BROOKLYN ROBINS GRAB TWO GAMES FROM THE PHILLIES

(By UNITED PRESS)
Idle again for the second straight day, the Chicago Cubs faced the possibility of losing more ground in the national league pennant race.

While the Cubs vacationed yesterday because of an open date in the schedule, the Brooklyn Robins grabbed two games from the Phillies, 9-5, 9-4, and increased their lead over the Cubs to 2½ games.

The Philadelphia Athletics enjoyed a 7-game lead in the American league race today as they finished their 2-game series against the second-place Senators at Washington. Lefty Grove won his 15th game of the season yesterday as the Athletics beat the Senators in the presence of President and Mrs. Hoover, 7-4.

The New York Yankees annexed a double-header from the Boston Red Sox, 8-2, and 10-1, and threaten to overtake the slipping Senators in second place. The Yankees are now 2½ games behind the Senators.

The St. Louis Browns moved within two points of the sixth-place Chicago White Sox by winning a double-header from Donie Bush's team, 3-2, and 6-1. Cleveland wasted its hits as Detroit beat the Indians on nine hits, 6-5. Cleveland made 14 hits.

The New York Giants won from the Boston Braves, 5-2. Eddie Marshall starring with four hits in four times at bat.

Pittsburgh moved within one game of fourth place by beating the St. Louis Cardinals, 6-5, for the second straight day.

There were no American association games yesterday.

"WHERE'S EMILY?" by CAROLYN WELLS

CHAPTER XXXI.
"T AKE my advice, Mr. Sayre, and don't try too hard to get at the truth," said Pennington.

"Now you've gone so far, go on."

"You want me to?"

"I sure do."

"There's not much to it, but you know there was a bit of a fuss over those Atlantic City pictures."

"For heaven's sake, what are those pictures? I've heard them hinted at until I'm sick of it. Tell me about them."

"No, I think not," said Pennington, after a moment's pause. "I've no right to. They were some pictures my wife and Emily Duane had taken down at Atlantic City. I'd rather not say anything about them, because I consider it Miss Duane's secret. Were it only my wife I'd willingly tell you. But Miss Duane's personal affairs are not for me to discuss, and I can't honorably say any more. I'm sure you see this."

Rodney did see it, and should Emily return he had no wish to tell her he had let Jim Pennington tell him of matters that she had not herself confided, so he urged it no more.

"Well," he said, "you're doubtless right. Emily would of course tell me about it, as your wife told you. I can't think it's anything very dreadful, anyway, but I'll ask no more about it. When are you going?"

"I think I'll start tomorrow morning and run down to New York in my car. Then, I'll stay there a few days looking after some business matters, and perhaps stop at some nearby place where it is quiet, for a time, or possibly start off to Europe by some mid-week steamer. It's queer, but I can't figure ahead at all while I'm here."

"Not queer at all," said Abel Collins, kindly. "It would be queer if you could, with decisions to make about packing, and then, clearing out the house—you have to leave it empty, don't you?"

"Oh, you mean food and such things. Yes, Rosa, she's a capable piece, and Mrs. Branch, that's the chauffeur's wife, they will attend to all that. I told them to get everything out and for Mrs. Branch to take any staples or edibles of any sort. Rosa has a new place in Tuxedo. She'll go there tomorrow. Then all I'll have to do is to turn the key and walk off."

"Mrs. Bell hopes you'll come over to dinner with us tomorrow, before you leave," Rodney said, as they rose to go.

"If I'm delayed until afternoon, I'll do that," was the reply. "But if I can, I want to make a start in the morning, in that case I shan't see her again. Please give her my regards, she has always been a kind friend to Pauline and myself. Oh, I'm an emotional sort, you know," he brushed a hand across his eyes, "I can't help it. I think I'd rather not go over to Knollwood to-morrow and say good-by to all that. Tell them all good-by for me, and let me go off by myself."

Pennington's voice shook and Rodney was sorry for him, so he told him not to come over unless he wished to do so, and with a silent handshake the men parted. Abel Collins held out a friendly hand, and as he grasped the other's shaking fingers, he whispered:

"Brace up, Jim, brace up. We'll find Emily yet."

"Oh, I hope so," said Pennington fervently, the tears welling up in his eyes; "I do hope so. Good-by."

"Half demented," Sayre said after they were out of earshot.

"Not quite that," Abel smiled, "but in a fearfully nervous state. Indeed, it will be better for him to get away from the scenes and people about here."

And as they went back to Knoll-

wood, to the home that was no home, to the house whose atmosphere was even more depressing than the Pennington house, for there was a feverish excitement, a will-o'-the-wisp of elusive hope and mocking despair that kept the nerves at highest, tension with nothing to relieve them.

Rodney found Everett Craven waiting for him and acceded to the lawyer's request for an interview.

"You see, Mr. Sayre," Craven said, coming straight to the point, "this Hindu, this theosophist, claims that Miss Duane's estate owes him a sum of money."

"Indeed," said Sayre, "and on what does he base that claim?"

"Well, you know in her will—"

"But Miss Duane isn't dead, that we know of. Just how does her will come into this?"

"I know, but the Swami assumes that after a certain time, if Miss Duane does not return she will be considered dead, and—"

"I think that time is seven years, or something like that. Tell him to wait seven years and then call again."

"But, this is his idea. That he be paid a certain sum down, a smaller sum than that mentioned in the will—"

"Discount it, eh?"

"Exactly. Or, rather adjust it, and give him the smaller sum now—"

"Is the excellent Hindu gentleman about?"

"Not that I know of," said Craven, a little scared at the fury in Rodney's eyes.

"Lucky for him. Now, Craven, come clean. What's it all about? You know as well as I do, this heathen Hindu is out for money and nothing else. Now has he any hold on Emily, other than the will,

"Craven, I know what you're hesitating about. It's those Atlantic City pictures."

which of course doesn't count until she is proved dead?"

"Well, he says she promised him some money, verbally."

"Oh, she did? Well, that doesn't count, either, until she comes back and can verify his statement. Anything else?"

"Well—"

"Craven, I know what you are hesitating about. It's those Atlantic City pictures. Now, tell me, once for all what are they, and why are they so important?"

"I don't know, Mr. Sayre. I know nothing of them except what the Swami has told me."

"All right, what has he told you?"

"That Miss Duane would far rather have some money paid to him than to have him tell about those pictures."

"He said that, did he?"

"Yes."

"In so many words?"

"Practically, yes."

"Now, look here, Craven, think carefully, are you in with him on this? Do you get a rake-off anywhere?"

"No—no."

(To Be Continued Tomorrow.)

Woman vs Man in Sports

By HARDIN BURNLEY

GREAT WOMAN ATHLETES! HOW DO THEY COMPARE WITH MEN IN SPORT?

SUZANNE LENGLEN → GREATEST OF HISTORY'S WOMAN TENNIS STARS. LOST TO TILDEN 6-0, 6-0!

THE GIRLS' SPRINT RECORD IS ELEVEN SECONDS FLAT—MUCH SLOWER THAN 9½ MARK!

SPORT BUG.

BUT—JOYCE WETHERED, GREATEST WOMAN GOLFER, CAN BEAT MANY OF THE BEST MALE STARS AT MATCH PLAY!

WOMEN have been conspicuous in sport news for many years with our Helen Wills (now Mrs. Moody), Joyce Wethered, Martha Norelius, Stella Walsh and other female athletes often commanding its main headlines. In all but the roughest forms of athletics such as boxing and wrestling, women have displayed amazing proficiency.

Miss Wills has been the queen of tennis ever since Suzanne Lenglen earned professional. None of the any very talented women players is given her any genuinely hard competition for several seasons. Helen seems invincible and is that among the women, but she would be a rather easy victim for any of the ranking male players.

Stella Walsh is a wonderful sprinter, the best her sex has yet produced; yet her record 11 1-5 seconds for the 100-yard dash is excellent in almost every dash by the male whizzes most of whom could outstrip her after conceding a 10-yard handicap.

As to the swimming queens or princesses—the Noreliuses, Ederies, Bleibtries, Holmeses, et al—the sterner sex, championed by such marvels as Weismüller and Kojac, is many seconds swifter than the fastest female over any distance up to five miles, and over longer stretches they are proportionately better. Of course, Gertrude Ederie did swim the English Channel in 14 hours, 31 minutes, but at least a dozen male swimmers have registered better time over the same tough route.

Nature apparently gives just the decisive edge to the males in all such comparisons—as far as champions go. The difference essentially is stamina so far as sustained strength is concerned.

However, there is Miss Joyce Wethered in golf who can give even the best male masters a real game. She shoots regularly in the 70's. Surveying all classes of sports in which women compete, that great Englishwoman probably deserves rating as the greatest of all champions of her sex.

Don't let your male chests swell up over thinking of male athletic superiority in the champ classes, because most of the women stars can easily excel seven out of eight ordinary male experts in their respective field.

Dairymen who feed liberally during July and August will largely avoid the decreased milk flow commonly ascribed to flies, since shortage of feed is really at the bottom of most of the trouble.

CLAIM NEW WORLD OUTBOARD MOTOR SPEED MARK

Chicago, July 31.—(U.P.)—Acceptance of a claim to a new world outboard motor boat speed record of 49.72 miles per hour, made by Ray Prenger, Jr., of Antioch, Ill., in a speed test at Fox Lake, July 27, today awaited official inspection of the motor. The recognized record of 49.48 miles per hour was established by H. G. Ferguson at Balboa, Calif., Dec. 4, 1929.

CHICAGO CUBS MAY SOON LOSE MORE GROUND

VACATIONED YESTERDAY BECAUSE OF OPEN DATE IN SCHEDULE

BROOKLYN ROBINS GRAB TWO GAMES FROM THE PHILLIES

(By UNITED PRESS)
Idle again for the second straight day, the Chicago Cubs faced the possibility of losing more ground in the national league pennant race.

While the Cubs vacationed yesterday because of an open date in the schedule, the Brooklyn Robins grabbed two games from the Phillies, 9-5, 9-4, and increased their lead over the Cubs to 2½ games.

The Philadelphia Athletics enjoyed a 7-game lead in the American league race today as they finished their 2-game series against the second-place Senators at Washington. Lefty Grove won his 15th game of the season yesterday as the Athletics beat the Senators in the presence of President and Mrs. Hoover, 7-4.

The New York Yankees annexed a double-header from the Boston Red Sox, 8-2, and 10-1, and threaten to overtake the slipping Senators in second place. The Yankees are now 2½ games behind the Senators.

The St. Louis Browns moved within two points of the sixth-place Chicago White Sox by winning a double-header from Donie Bush's team, 3-2, and 6-1. Cleveland wasted its hits as Detroit beat the Indians on nine hits, 6-5. Cleveland made 14 hits.

The New York Giants won from the Boston Braves, 5-2, Eddie Marshall starting with four hits in four times at bat.

Pittsburgh moved within one game of fourth place by beating the St. Louis Cardinals, 6-5, for the second straight day.

There were no American association games yesterday.

Woman vs Man in Sports

By HARDIN BURNLEY

THE GIRLS' SPRINT RECORD IS ELEVEN SECONDS FLAT—MUCH SLOWER THAN 9½ MARK!

SPORT BUG.

BUT—JOYCE WETHERED, GREATEST WOMAN GOLFER, CAN BEAT MANY OF THE BEST MALE STARS AT MATCH PLAY!

WOMEN have been conspicuous in sport news for many years with our Helen Wills (now Mrs. Moody), Joyce Wethered, Martha Norelius, Stella Walsh and other female athletes often commanding its main headlines. In all but the roughest forms of athletics such as boxing and wrestling, women have displayed amazing proficiency.

Miss Wills has been the queen of tennis ever since Suzanne Lenglen earned professional. None of the any very talented women players as given her any genuine hard competition for several seasons. elen seems invincible and is that among the women, but she would be a rather easy victim for any of the ranking male players.

Stella Walsh is a wonderful sprinter, the best her sex has yet produced; yet her record 11 1-5 seconds for the 100-yard dash is excelled in almost every dash by the male whizzes most of whom could outstrip her after conceding a 10-yard handicap.

As to the swimming queens or princesses—the Noreliuses, Ederles, Bleibtries, Holmeses, et al—the sterner sex, championed by such marvels as Weismüller and Kojac, is many seconds swifter than the fastest female over any distance up to five miles, and over longer stretches they are proportionately better. Of course, Gertrude Ederle did swim the English Channel in 14 hours, 31 minutes, but at least a dozen male whales have registered better time over the same tough route.

Nature apparently gives just the decisive edge to the males in all such comparisons—as far as champions go. The difference essentially is stamina so far as sustained strength is concerned.

However, there is Miss Joyce Wethered in golf who can give even the best male masters a real game. She shoots regularly in the 70's. Surveying all classes of sport in which women compete, that great Englishwoman probably deserves rating as the greatest of all champions of her sex.

Don't let your male chests swell up over thinking of male athletic superiority in the champ classes, because most of the women stars can easily excel seven out of eight ordinary male experts in their respective field.

"WHERE'S EMILY?" by CAROLYN WELLS

CHAPTER XXXI.
"TAKES my advice, Mr. Sayre, and don't try too hard to get at the truth," said Pennington.

"Now you've gone so far, go on."

"You want me to?"

"I sure do."

"There's not much to it, but you know there was a bit of a fuss over those Atlantic City pictures."

"For heaven's sake, what are those pictures? I've heard them hinted at until I'm sick of it. Tell me about them."

"No, I think not," said Pennington, after a moment's pause. "I've no right to. They were some pictures my wife and Emily Duane had taken down at Atlantic City. I'd rather not say anything about them, because I consider it Miss Duane's secret. Were it only my wife I'd willingly tell you. But Miss Duane's personal affairs are not for me to discuss, and I can't honorably say any more. I'm sure you see this."

Rodney did see it, and should Emily return he had no wish to tell her he had let Jim Pennington tell him of matters that she had not herself confided, so he urged it no more.

"Well," he said, "you're doubtless right. Emily would of course tell me about it, as your wife told you. I can't think it's anything very dreadful, anyway, but I'll ask no more about it. When are you going?"

"I think I'll start tomorrow morning and run down to New York in my car. Then, I'll stay there a few days looking after some business matters, and perhaps motor to some nearby place where it is quiet, for a time, or possibly start off to Europe by some mid-week steamer. It's queer, but I can't figure ahead at all while I'm here."

"Not queer at all," said Abel Collins, kindly, "it would be queer if you could, with decisions to make about packing, and then, clearing out the house—you have to leave it empty, don't you?"

"Oh, you mean food and such things. Yes, Rosa, she's a capable piece, and Mrs. Branch, that's the chauffeur's wife, they will attend to all that. I told them to get everything out and for Mrs. Branch to take any staples or edibles of any sort. Rosa has a new place in Tuxedo. She'll go there tomorrow. Then all I'll have to do is to turn the key and walk off."

"Mrs. Bell hopes you'll come over to dinner with us tomorrow, before you leave," Rodney said, as they rose to go.

"If I'm delayed until afternoon, I'll do that," was the reply. "But if I can, I want to make a start in the morning, in that case I shan't see her again. Please give her my regards, she has always been a kind friend to Pauline and myself. Oh, I'm an emotional sort, you know," he brushed a hand across his eyes, "I can't help it. I think I'd rather not go over to Knollwood to-morrow and say good-by for me, and let me go off by myself."

Pennington's voice shook and Rodney was sorry for him, so he told him not to come over unless he wished to do so, and with a silent handshake the men parted. Abel Collins held out a friendly hand, and as he grasped the other's shaking fingers, he whispered: "Brace up, Jim, brace up. We'll find Emily yet."

"Oh, I hope so," said Pennington fervently, the tears welling up in his eyes; "I do hope so. Good-by."

"Half demented," Sayre said after they were out of earshot.

"Not quite that," Abel smiled, "but in a fearfully nervous state. Indeed, it will be better for him to get away from the scenes and people about here."

And as they went back to Knoll-

smaller sum than that mentioned in the will—

"Discount it, eh?"

"Exactly. Or, rather adjust it, and give him the smaller sum now."

"Is the excellent Hindu gentleman about?"

"Not that I know of," said Craven, a little scared at the fury in Rodney's eyes.

"Lucky for him. Now, Craven, come clean. What's it all about? You know as well as I do, this heathen Hindu is out for money, and nothing else. Now has he any hold on Emily, other than the will,

"Craven, I know what you're hesitating about. It's those Atlantic City pictures."

wood, to the home that was no home, to the house whose atmosphere was even more depressing than the Pennington house, for there was simply desolation, while here was a feverish excitement, a will-o'-the-wisp of elusive hope and mocking despair that kept the nerves at highest, tension with nothing to relieve them.

Rodney found Everett Craven waiting for him and acceded to the lawyer's request for an interview.

"You see, Mr. Sayre," Craven said, coming straight to the point, "this Hindu, this theosophist, claims that Miss Duane's estate owes him a sum of money."

"Indeed," said Sayre, "and on what does he base that claim?"

"Well, you know in her will—"

"But Miss Duane isn't dead, that we know of. Just how does her will come into this?"

"I know, but the Swami assumes that after a certain time, if Miss Duane does not return she will be considered dead, and—"

"I think that time is seven years, or something like that. Tell him to wait seven years and then call again."

"But, this is his idea. That he be paid a certain sum down, a which of course doesn't count until she is proved dead?"

"Well, he says she promised him some money, verbally."

"Oh, she did? Well, that doesn't count, either, until she comes back and can verify his statement. Anything else?"

"Well—"

"Craven, I know what you are hesitating about. It's those Atlantic City pictures. Now, tell me once for all what are they, and why are they so important?"

"I don't know, Mr. Sayre. I know nothing of them except what the Swami has told me."

"All right, what has he told you?"

"That Miss Duane would far rather have some money paid to him than to have him tell about those pictures."

"He said that, did he?"

"Yes."

"In so many words?"

"Practically, yes."

"Now, look here, Craven, think carefully, are you in with him on this? Do you get a rake-off anywhere?"

"N—ne."

SCHWAB GOT A HUGE SALARY SINCE YEAR 1925

$150,000 ANNUALLY PAID TO THE VETERAN STEEL MAN

IS CHAIRMAN OF BOARD OF THE BETHLEHEM STEEL CORPORATION

Youngstown, O., July 31.—(UP)—Charles M. Schwab, veteran chairman of the board of the Bethlehem Steel Corporation has received a salary of $150,000 a year since 1925, it was brought out today in Cyrus S. Eaton's suit to block merger of Youngstown Sheet and Tube Co. with Bethlehem.

The veteran steel man's salary was revealed in a list of salaries and bonuses paid by Bethlehem since 1925 and submitted to the court at the insistence of Eaton's attorneys.

The figure was a complete surprise. It had been supposed that Schwab was receiving an annual salary variously estimated at between $1,000,000 and $2,000,000 a year.

In earlier testimony it was brought out that Eugene G. Grace, Bethlehem Steel president, receives an annual salary of $12,000, but supplementary to annual "incentive bonuses." His incentive bonus last year, it was testified, was more than $1,600,000.

HOIDALE ATTACKS SEN. SCHALL'S RECORD

Minneapolis, Minn., July 31.—(UP)—Comparing Senator Thomas D. Schall's vote on the tariff with his speeches on the bill, Hoidale, Schall's democratic opponent for election to the U. S. senate, spoke today before the Minneapolis Men's Democratic Lunch Club.

"Speaking of the tariff bill Schall said, 'Through it all the republicans can be said to have kept their pledge.' If the tariff bill fulfilled the pledge to the farmer, then why did Senator Schall vote against it?" Hoidale asked.

Hoidale also attacked Schall's record on the 9-foot channel.

CHARMING DINNER SERVED BY CLUB

The Brainerd Country club presented a very charming appearance Tuesday evening at the Country club dinner, with baskets and vases of beautiful gladioli adorning the dining table and the interior of the club house. ## FUNERAL RITES FOR A. G. TROMMALT

Laid to Rest in Beautiful Evergreen Cemetery This Afternoon

GRAVE BANKED WITH FLOWERS

Friends From All Parts of the State Gather to Pay Last Respects

A. G. Trommalt, the strong of heart, courage of a Viking whose entire life established him as an example, was in the hearts and minds of thousands throughout the state today.

His remains were laid to rest in beautiful Evergreen cemetery while hundreds stood silently viewing the touching rites. His grave was banked high with flowers, this only being one token of the esteem in which he was held in the eyes of his countrymen.

Services were held from his residence, 502 North 7th street, at 2:30 o'clock. There, friends from all parts of the state, their names public words, gathered to pay their respects. There, friends of this estimable man of Brainerd and Crow Wing county who knew him socially, in business, looked for the last time on his face, the lines of character so pronounced.

For blocks, cars gathered, while the funeral cortege to the cemetery was one of the longest in the history of the city.

Throughout the home a breeze from the warm sunlight blew in to waft the beautiful scent of many flowers.

The service opened with a prayer by Rev. O. L. Bolstad. That touching song, "Abide With Me" was sung by Dr. G. I. Badeaux accompanied by Mrs. Walter E. Wieland who later gave "Rock of Ages."

The story of everlasting life in Jesus Christ was told by Rev. Bolstad in the sermon.

The rites were observed in the presence of the immediate family, Mrs. Trommalt, his widow, Asie, his son and Dr. Gladys Trommalt, his daughter, relatives of Mrs. Trommalt and friends locally and out of the city. The latter included: W. I. Nolan, Minneapolis, former lieutenant governor and now congressman of the 5th district; Congressman Harold Knutson, St. Cloud; Senator Chris Rosenmeier, Little Falls; Otto Bremer, vice president of the Citizens State bank of Brainerd and chairman of the board of the American National bank of St. Paul and his sister, Miss Frieda Bremer; V. E. Erickson, register of deeds, Aitkin county; L. W. Huntley, register of deeds Itasca county and his son, Attorney L. L. Huntley, Grand Rapids; R. E. Bennett, cashier of the First National bank of Crosby; Attorneys Murphy and Cook, Crosby; Fred Schwanke, cashier of the First National bank of Deerwood; John A. Oberg, postmaster at Deerwood; Harry Koop, Crosby; E. P. Scallon, representative at large for Crow Wing and Morrison counties, Crosby; Chas. G. Osterlund, Deerwood; Albert Olson, Deerwood; Mr. and Mrs. Milton Mahlum, Minneapolis; A. W. Skog, register of deeds of Hennepin county; and R. G. Harte, cashier of the First State bank of Cuyuna.

All those from outside Brainerd had known Mr. Trommalt well in business associations. His name was prominent throughout the northwest and he was possibly the most widely known figure in Crow Wing county, having been register of deeds of this county for 25 years as well as being an active worker in civic and other associations.

Among eulogies extended by friends out of the county were:

Congressman Nolan: "I was greatly saddened by Mr. Trommalt's death. I knew him many years and had a high regard of him in every way. I feel that his death is a distinct loss to the city, this county and state."

Congressman Knutson: "In the passing of A. G. Trommalt, Minnesota and Crow Wing county lose an outstanding citizen, a man of fine character and ability whom I was proud to number among my friends."

Senator Rosenmeier: "Crow Wing county and Brainerd have lost a faithful public servant and the people a loyal friend."

Fred Larson, register of deeds, Morrison county: "Mr. Trommalt's loss is state-wide. He was one of the outstanding authorities in Minnesota on the Torrens system."

COMPLETE PAVING WORK SATURDAY

Job Calls for 7,500 Square Yards of Concrete, Gave 25 Men Month's Employment

READY FOR USE AUGUST 15

Bonds to Meet Cost of Project, $19,125 to be Sold Locally

Brainerd's paving work downtown, east of Laurel street, will be completed Saturday although the streets paved will not all be opened for traffic until August 15, R. T. Campbell, city engineer, reported today.

Streets paved were: Front from 8th to 9th, 9th from Front to Laurel and Laurel from 8th to 10th. The work is being done by S. A. Riches of Brainerd at a cost of approximately $19,125 and has provided employment during the past month for 25 Brainerd men. A total of 7,500 square yards of concrete will have been laid when the project is completed. Portions of the streets will be opened for traffic soon.

Bonds to meet the cost of the work are being sold locally according to City Attorney D. H. Fullerton.

SONS OF NORWAY OUTING AUG. 3

Members, Families and Friends to Gather at Ole Stene Cottage on Gull

The Sons of Norway, their wives, families and friends will hold an outing Sunday, August 3 at the Ole Stene cottage on Gull Lake. This is an annual outing of the society and is always looked forward to by the members.

Helmer Omland and Ole Stene are in charge of the arrangements, and a variety of entertainment is being planned for all. All those attending are requested to meet at the court house at 10 o'clock Sunday morning. Those with cars are asked to take a full load. Those having no way of transportation will meet at the court house where cars to go out in will be waiting. Those attending are also asked to bring their own lunch and coffee for the picnic dinner at noon. Ice cream and pop will be sold on the picnic grounds.

The afternoon will be spent in boating, swimming, fishing and other sports. It is expected at least 150 will attend.

ASK IMPROVEMENT OF SCHOOL GROUNDS

Lions Club Committee to Wait on School Board; Future Meetings Planned

ENTERTAIN LADIES WEDNESDAY

Ladies Night to be Celebrated at Pine Beach; Hold Joint Meet Week Following

Improvement of school grounds by the cutting of grass, particularly the Washington high school grounds, will be asked of the Brainerd Board of Education by a special committee of the Lions club, appointed at last evening's dinner meeting at the Ransford hotel.

Two future meetings of the club were planned, the next to be held Wednesday evening at the Brainerd-Pine Beach hotel on Gull Lake when "Ladies Night" will be celebrated. The following week's meeting will be held at the Blue Goose Inn with Lions from Aitkin in attendance.

Dr. G. I. Badeaux, Dr. C. E. Anderson and R. L. Geist were named on a committee to arrange for the meeting at Pine Beach.

Herman C. J. Peisch, certified accountant, Minneapolis, who has his summer home on Long Lake was the guest speaker at last evening's meeting. He took for his topic "Your Neighbors," stating that visitors who spend summers in the Brainerd area should not be classified as tourists but as neighbors.

"Those of us who spend our summers with us like to be known as your neighbors and we like to become interested in your activities," he said.

Mr. Peisch suggested that summer visitors be enlisted in planning events and that many valuable ideas could be gained by closer friendship with them.

BANK'S APPEARANCE VASTLY IMPROVED

Interior of Citizens State One of Attractiveness as Well as Fine Protection

A vast improvement in appearance is noticed in the Citizens State bank of Brainerd building at the corner of Laurel and Seventh streets with the completion of work of installation of cages and the placing of grill work in the interior.

The improvements add a feeling of security, for while they are attractive in design they provide fine protection against theft.

The work was done by the A. Morrison and Co., of Minneapolis, bank builders at a cost of $2500. New shelving has also been installed.

HERE IT IS

On a full home job of weather stripping contracts received now for fall installation, prices are as follows:

FUNERAL RITES FOR A. G. TROMMALT

Laid to Rest in Beautiful Evergreen Cemetery This Afternoon

GRAVE BANKED WITH FLOWERS

Friends From All Parts of the State Gather to Pay Last Respects

A. G. Trommalt, the strong of heart, courage of a Viking whose entire life established him as an example, was in the hearts and minds of thousands throughout the state today.

His remains were laid to rest in beautiful Evergreen cemetery while hundreds stood silently viewing the touching rites. His grave was banked high with flowers, this only being one token of the esteem in which he was held in the eyes of his countrymen.

Services were held from his residence, 502 North 7th street, at 2:30 o'clock. There, friends from all parts of the state, their names public words, gathered to pay their respects. There, friends of this estimable man of Brainerd and Crow Wing county who knew him socially, in business, looked for the last time on his face, the lines of character so pronounced.

For blocks, cars gathered, while the funeral cortege to the cemetery was one of the longest in the history of the city.

Throughout the home a breeze from the warm sunlight blew in to waft the beautiful scent of many flowers.

The service opened with a prayer by Rev. O. L. Bolstad. That touching song, "Abide With Me" was sung by Dr. G. I. Badeaux accompanied by Mrs. Walter F. Wieland who later gave "Rock of Ages."

The story of everlasting life in Jesus Christ was told by Rev. Bolstad in the sermon.

The rites were observed in the presence of the immediate family, Mrs. Trommalt, his widow, Asie, his son and Dr. Gladys Trommalt, his daughter, relatives of Mrs. Trommalt and friends locally and out of the city. The latter included: W. I. Nolan, Minneapolis, former lieutenant governor and now congressman of the 5th district; Congressman Harold Knutson, St. Cloud; Senator Chris Rosenmeier, Little Falls; Otto Bremer, vice president of the Citizens State bank of Brainerd and chairman of the board of the American National bank of St. Paul; and his sister, Miss Frieda Bremer; E. Erickson, register of deeds, Aitkin county; L. W. Huntley, register of deeds Itasca county and his son, Attorney L. L. Huntley, Grand Rapids; R. E. Bennett, cashier of the First National bank of Crosby; Attorneys Murphy and Cook, Crosby; Fred Schwanke, cashier of the First National bank of Deerwood; John A. Oberg, postmaster at Deerwood; Harry Koop, Crosby; E. P. Scallon, representative at large for Crow Wing and Morrison counties, Crosby; Chas. G. Osterlund, Deerwood; Albert Olson, Deerwood; Mr. and Mrs. Milton Mahlum, Minneapolis; A. W. Skog, register of deeds of Hennepin county; and R. G. Harte, cashier of the First State bank of Cuyuna.

All those from outside Brainerd had known Mr. Trommalt well in business associations. His name was prominent throughout the northwest and he was possibly the most widely known figure in Crow Wing county, having been register of deeds of this county for 25 years as well as being an active worker in civic and other associations.

Among eulogies extended by friends out of the county were:

Congressman Nolan: "I was greatly saddened by Mr. Trommalt's death. I knew him many years and had a high regard of him in every way. I feel that his death is a distinct loss to the city, this county and state."

Congressman Knutson: "In the passing of A. G. Trommalt, Minnesota and Crow Wing county lose an outstanding citizen, a man of fine character and ability whom I was proud to number among my friends."

Senator Rosenmeier: "Crow Wing county and Brainerd have lost a faithful public servant and the people a loyal friend."

Fred Larson, register of deeds, Morrison county: "Mr. Trommalt's loss is state-wide. He was one of the outstanding authorities in Minnesota on the Torrens system."

Board of Commissioners this morning as successor to A. G. Trommalt who passed away Tuesday.

Mr. Jenkins has been deputy register of deeds since October 16, 1905, Mr. Trommalt having taken office as register of deeds in January of the same year.

Bonds in the amount of $5,000 as register of deeds and $2,000 as registrar of titles have been approved in the case of Mr. Jenkins.

Selection of his deputy will be made tomorrow, Mr. Jenkins said.

LINGLE CASE GROWS MORE COMPLICATED

POLICEMAN'S POSITIVE IDENTIFICATION OF FRANK FOSTER

AS ONE OF THE MEN ACTUALLY INVOLVED IN THE MURDER

Chicago, July 31.—(U.P.)—A policeman's positive identification of Frank Foster as one of the men actually involved in the Alfred J. Lingle murder complicated today the puzzle which several investigating bodies have been trying for seven and a half weeks to solve.

Foster, a former "Bugs" Moran gangster, never was suspected of being the actual slayer of the Tribune reporter until Policeman Anthony Rothy dramatically pointed him out as the man who ran from a subway just after Lingle was killed there.

Investigations of the murder have been carried on by the police, a special board of strategy appointed by the state's attorney, and by the Cook county grand jury, which also has been investigating newspaper racketeering charges and which intended to complete its inquiry today.

Each official body has proceeded on the theory that Foster was not the slayer, but that he once owned the gun with which Lingle was shot and that he might, if willing to brave gangland vengeance, give information that would lead to arrest of the killer.

Now, if the investigators are to accept Rothy's identification, all their work has been in the wrong direction and they have their choice of either starting all over again or proceeding as before, despite Rothy's testimony.

The policeman's identification was made at Foster's preliminary hearing on the murder charge, a charge which officials admitted they made merely to guarantee he would be held in custody rather than in the expectation of actually convicting him.

Judge Daniel P. Trude set Sept. 9 as the date for the trial and told prosecutors if the state was not ready at that time he would release Foster under $25,000 bond.

Rothy's testimony was a shock to defense and state attorneys and to Foster, whose wife became hysterical. The defense had called the policeman as their own witness, believing he would increase doubt Foster was in the subway when Lingle was shot. He was the last witness they called.

LINGLE CASE GROWS MORE COMPLICATED

POLICEMAN'S POSITIVE IDENTIFICATION OF FRANK FOSTER

AS ONE OF THE MEN ACTUALLY INVOLVED IN THE MURDER

Chicago, July 31.—(UP)—A policeman's positive identification of Frank Foster as one of the men actually involved in the Alfred J. Lingle murder complicated today the puzzle which several investigating bodies have been trying for seven and a half weeks to solve.

Foster, a former "Bugs" Moran gangster, never was suspected of being the actual slayer of the Tribune reporter until Policeman Anthony Ruffy dramatically pointed him out as the man who ran from a subway just after Lingle was killed there.

Investigations of the murder have been carried on by the police, a special board of strategy appointed by the state's attorney, and by the Cook county grand jury, which also has been investigating newspaper racketeering charges and which intended to complete its inquiry today.

Each official body has proceeded on the theory that Foster was not the slayer, but that he once owned the gun with which Lingle was shot and that he might, if willing to brave gangland vengeance, give information that would lead to arrest of the killer.

Now, if the investigators are to accept Ruffy's identification, all their work has been in the wrong direction and they have their choice of either starting all over again or proceeding as before, despite Ruffy's testimony.

The policeman's identification was made at Foster's preliminary hearing on the murder charge, a charge which officials admitted they made merely to guarantee he would be held in custody rather than in the expectation of actually convicting him.

Judge Daniel P. Trude set Sept. 9 as the date for the trial and told prosecutors if the state was not ready at that time he would release Foster under $25,000 bond.

Ruffy's testimony was a shock to defense and state attorneys and to Foster, whose wife became hysterical. The defense had called the policeman as their own witness, believing he would increase doubt Foster was in the subway when Lingle was shot. He was the last witness they called.
